Roosevelt's WAR

Amos Pinchot Warns the President

Quotes F. D. R. Pre-Election Pledges

The Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
The White House, Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

Nine scant months ago, by the election of a Chief Executive for a third consecutive term, a dictatorship was begotten on the body politic of this country. Your occupation of Iceland, without knowledge or consent of Congress, together with your July 7th message and July 8th press conference, disclosing your intention to wage an undeclared war on German sea power in the Atlantic, give proof that the period of gestation is over, and a new dictatorship is born to the world.

Mr. President, if you act upon your proposition to shoot it out wtih the German navy, should it attack vessels carrying contraband to England, or even show itself in the waters between Iceland and the United States, you will do this in clear defiance of international law and our Constitution, that places the war-making power in Congress. Moreover, this act of war will be a repudiation of your pre-election contract with the people, to keep America out of war provided they would give you a third term in office. And it may be said that, for the performance of this contract, you were paid in advance on November, 1940 by the votes of twenty seven million then trusting, but now betrayed, citizens.

No Foreign Wars

Mr. President, some of us have short memories nowadays. Consequently, with your permission, I will remind you of the evening of October 23rd, 1940, when in Convention Hall, in Philadelphia, you addressed some sixteen thousand wildly cheering citizens as follows:

"To Republicans and Democrats, to every man, woman and child in the nation I say this—your President and your secretary of State are following the road to peace. We are arming ourselves not for any foreign war.

"We are arming ourselves not for any purpose of conquest or intervention in foreign disputes. I repeat again that I stand on the platform of our party: 'We will not participate in foreign wars, and we will not send our Army, Naval or Air Forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas except in case of attack.' "

And these citizens certainly believed that, by the word "attack" you meant attack, and not some seizure by Germany of some other nation's bases in Africa or the Indian Ocean on the far side of this planet. In Madison Square Garden, on October 28 you said:

"We shall continue to go forward in firm faith. We shall continue to go forward in peace."

And two days later, at Boston, you rammed home your New York and Philadelphia pledges in the following now familiar words:

"And while I am talking to you, fathers and mothers, I give you once more assurance. I have said this before, but I shall say it again, and again, and again. Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars."

Mr. President, Iceland is not in the Americas, or even in the Western Hemisphere, as you have erroneously claimed. It is as much a foreign country as England or France. It is in the war zone, three thousand miles from the United States and but seven hundred from the English coast. Nevertheless, you told your press conference that you propose to relieve its British garrison with American "boys".

More than that, you said you would "act" in other undisclosed places outside this Hemisphere, without authority of Congress, whenever in your opinion, such action might be necessary. In a word you propose to act, not as an American president, but as a confessed dictator equally scornful of his own promises and of the public will. And in a hilarious mood you wound up that strange conference, where the floor was littered with your torn up pledges, with jocular remarks on the fallibility of geographers, and a comic story about an old woman in a boat.

Mr. President, I earnestly beg you to reconsider the course you propose. For, if you continue on that course, that is to say, use Iceland and ports in far away parts of the globe as bases from which to launch attacks against Germany, in your personal unauthorized war, you will not merely kick down the ladder on which you climbed to the highest, if most perilous honor ever given an American—three terms in the White House—but break the downright agreement you made with Congress, before the Lease-Lend Bill was passed. Namely, that our government would not be responsible for delivering goods lent, leased, sold or given to Britain, and that the provisions of the bill should in no case be used to provoke war.

Today there is no "defense" reason in God's world, for entering a declared or undeclared war that did not exist in greater measure when you made your peace pledges last fall at Philadelphia, Hartford, Boston, New York, Brooklyn, Cleveland and Washington. We are far better prepared for defense than then, and so is England. And, with our rising production, we can admittedly make America impregnable, before Hitler, involved as he is, could organize an expeditionary force, if he were mad enough to do so. No Military authority has dared testify otherwise.

That is one reason why the majority of Americans are little moved by the cowardly doctrine that we cannot defend ourselves and will be enslaved by Hitler, unless we go forth and fight him in Africa and Asia, or in Europe, on his home grounds. That doctrine does not make sense. And everybody knows it. The one place where the English have stopped Hitler is England. And yet, from the moment of your re-election, you have not ceased to use every expedient to spread a psychology of hysteria and blind funk in the United States. And you have invited German attack and total war by aggressive acts that follow each other in ever faster succession.

International War Conspiracy

The unvarnished truth is that you are taking part in something which can only be described as an international conspiracy to draw America into participation in bloody, foreign wars that are needless for defense and prejudicial to every legitimate interest of our people. Meantime you and your spokesmen, in and out of Congress, are reviling every loyal American who says now precisely what you said nine months ago, and whose cardinal sin is that he loves his own country better than any other.

So this, Mr. President, is democracy—your democracy, democracy a la mode and a La New Deal. It is the first fruit of your four freedoms —especially including freedom of speech and freedom from fear and war—which you propose to install and defend in every part of the world. A people that does not want war, dragged into war by the irresponsible will of an individual who rose to power by promising to keep them out of war! Mr. President, once more I urge you, in the name of your country's good, and the reputation of American democratic government, to reconsider your course before it is too late.

Personally, I do not believe you can either force, frighten, or finesse a great self-respecting people into foreign wars which their common sense and considered judgment tell them to avoid. Nevertheless, if you do not abandon the purposes you announced in your message to Congress of July 7th, and your subsequent press conferences, you will do your country an unforgettable injury, by serving notice on the world that the integrity of Ameria's White House is no longer intact.

In closing, may I remind you that not long ago you stated that the world can neither deal nor make peace with a man who does not keep his word.

Sincerely yours,
AMOS R. E. PINCHOT,
101 Park Ave., New York City.

"Call No Man Good" Said Jesus

(Over KGB, Tuesday 8:30 pm, July 22, 1941)

The Kink Can Do No Wrong

FRED— I read in the papers where Paul Mallon, the Washington columnist, says that to him, "President Roosevelt as comander-in-chief of the army and navy, speaks infallibly". Is the president infallible, as Paul Mallon says, dad?

DAD—Jesus Christ has answered this proposition. When His followers compared Him to God and called Him good, Jesus rebuked them by saying: "Call no man good, for only ONE is good, and that is the Father in heaven". Now if Jesus Christ, Himself, denies personal infallibility, I am certain that even the commander-in-chief of the U. S. army and navy, could not possibly be infallible.

FRED—But why did Paul Mallon say such a thing?

"Infallible" Myth Leads to Dictatorship

DAD—In the spirit of militarism a subordinate must not question the orders received in line of duty. Blind obedience is exacted. If the order leads to death or a life doomed to eternal misery as a cripple, the subordinate must at no time question the good judgment of his superior and try to protect himself; but must walk even to his own doom and execute the order blindly. To escape this state of affairs men have come to the U. S. A. during the last 150 years, because here we had no militarism ruling the country as it did in Europe. Here intelligence, reason and truth were placed higher than the will of a militarist dictator.

FRED—I see that Hitler and Stalin exact blind obedience and have a secret police that hounds all those who don't think that the dictators are superior and infallible beings. I am surprised at Paul Mallon making such a statement.

DAD—Don't be surprised at anything during this hysteria and propaganda period. This is the time when the chaff is being separated from the wheat and the truth comes out for all to see. Humanity after all is yet far removed from the Kingdom of God, from the rule of reason and intelligence. There is much of the herd habit remaining in people, even in such men as Paul Mallon, who are well read columnists. The same trait was recorded in the Bible when the Israelites asked for a king to rule them, so that they would not have to think and choose for themselves how to conduct their own affairs, but would be told by the king what to do. It signifies the end of selfgovernment.

FRED—I can see why you don't think that the President in infallible. You picketed again in front of the Post Office last Thursday noon. What did your sign read this time?

Communist Menace

DAD—My sign said: "Communism is a Menace —We want NO WAR—The President Must uphold the Constitution".

FRED—But now that the Communists are fighting Hitler, does that not make them our allies? Winston Churchill said they are his allies.

DAD—There is no more despicable creature on God's green earth, than a Communist who swears allegiance to our Constitution, but takes his orders from Moscow. Just because for the

Who Sponsors Refugees?

The Mayor of La Mesa

MYSTERY SOLVED

I happened to see Ben Polak, whom I have known for some time as a former employee of Rutherford & Dort, so I figured that Ben would be interested to read about the request his former employers had received from Rudi Baer, of New York, to sponsor the entry of Abraham Frankenhuis and his famliy into the U. S. A. I handed him a copy of last week's BROOM containing that story: "I am sure you will be interested to read this week's issue". —"No, Thank you", said Polak.—"Better take it along and read it, I know you'll want to read it, you don't have to pay for it."

This free offer was accepted and Polak looked at the front page: "A. Frankenhuis, why that's my nephew. Where did you get this? I was working for his father in Haaksbergen when he was born. He was here in San Diego several years ago." And Polak became so interested he folded the paper, stuck it in his pocket and decided to pay the nickel anyway.

"His father was my mother's brother," continued Polak. "So he needs an affidavit of support to come here now. I'll see to that. I brought my brother's boy over with such an affidavit just before hostitlities started over there. I had to make quite a large deposit of money with the bank to secure the affidavit. But he came over and is safe."

Ben Polak, mayor of La Mesa, used to work for Rutherford and Dort for about 10 years. Abraham Frankenhuis must have lost track of him and his private address, but having visited San Diego when Polak was with the firm, he remembered it and addressed the letter to the firm instead of to his uncle in care of the firm.

Warner Brothers

The Mayor of La Mesa is not the only one, of course, who brings refugees over. A young lady who used to work for Warner Brothers of Hollywood gives the following information.

"During the lunch hour I wandered over the lot where a new set was being built. I listened to the men talking. They were all speaking in foreign tongues. They were Jews from Poland, speaking Polish, from Hungary, Czecho-Slovakia, Germany talking Yiddish and then I saw a well dressed man come and visit with them. Later I was told it was Jack Warner and that all these men had been brought over as refugees under his sponsorship. None of them was over three months in the country, most of them could not speak a word of English, but all of them had good jobs at high wages and native Americans had been fired to make room for these refugees. I got so disgusted after a while, I left and came to San Diego."

White Folks Leave Miami Beach

And another San Diegan described what has happened on the Atlantic seaboard: "I have made a trip east with my wife. You could not recognize the east. It's filled with refugee Jews. At Miami Beach we stepped on the beach and as far as the eye could see, there were no white people on the beach, but only hairy, greasy, oily and skinny refugee Jews. They were jabbering in every conceivable European language, arrogant lolling about in bathing suits, some so short that it did not cover a fat fellows' schwanz. There he was stretched out in the sun, men, women and children passing by all the time but he did not mind being gaped at and had no feeling of modesty or shame. They display their wealth, demand service and deport themselves in a fashion that has driven away the white people who used to come to Miami Beach, over to Daytonia and to Fort Lauderdale".

If I Was President of the United States

By Hubert H. Heath

HOT SPRINGS, New Mex.,—If I were president of the United Statse and I had descended from a certain Hebrew gentleman who spent his time sipping champagne, well within the British lines, while Washington and his men suffered at Valley Forge, possibly I would not now be exactly burned up with patriotic zeal, nor eaten up with admiration for the Founding Fathers.

Were a later ancestor a gentleman whom I was well aware was the very first to suggest that my country be placed under a dictator, were my whole family noted for their immeasurable ego, possibly I, too, might favor dictatorship—and if so, it is entirely understandable that I'd feel it my duty to serve my people in that capacity.

Quite possibly I'd feel that the Founding Fathers were a bunch of fatheads and their boasted Constitution was a "Horse & Buggy" instrument. If I did, it would only be quite natural that I should hold the common herd in utter contempt and when they defeated at the polls my friends whom I'd asked them to elect, quite probably I'd then appoint them to much better places at much larger salaries. Probably I'd get a boisterous laugh from fooling dumbclucks.

In fact heredity does things to us. It largely creates our outlook on life. Can any one be blamed for what is bred in the bone? I wonder! Were I president of the United States and felt in such a way about the formation of our country perhaps I, too, would wish to return it to dominion status under the British empire.

It is quite conceivable that I'd regard it as right to accomplish such a return by any means, as well worth my while. I perhaps would be easily convinced that the peace of the world depended upon my success in doing just that.

Feeling so I could scarcely be blamed for being a trifle impatient of restrictions in a horse & buggy instrument and I'd probably pack, by any available means, the Courts that might otherwise stand in my way.

Were I president of the United Staets and well knew that I was chosen by certain great financial interests to accomplish that one thing, I would doubtless feel it was right and proper to use any means to do that.

Now it is inconceivable that these great interests would so choose and elect me unless I possessed the peculiar characteristics needed for doing this. I would most certainly "Sabe the burro" or I'd never reach that high post.

Being able to do so, I would comprehend that the first and foremost thing would be to strip my opponents of property and political power and I'd see that the neatest way to do this would be to let "my franz" into the temple, while professing to drive them out.

I'd build the public debt by every means at my command, as that would ultimately abolish private property, inevitably. I'd sell "My franz" bonds by the truck load and pour the money down rat holes, raking leaves, killing live stock, burning crops.

I'd bond the people for money to pay them for what they destroyed. I'd get them into war at the earliest moment, while declaring my purpose of keeping them out of it. Once into war I'd seize power under the May bill, the M-Day plan, the public enemy act and similar acts.

Of course even the dumbclucks would soon learn that I was not doing the things I said and I'd make it a point early to find some one to divert their wrath to.

Hitler would appear created to order to direct the wrath of all men upon his head and I'd doubtless use him. I'd declare he meant to come over and take us, and only the British navy could or would save us.

I'd start a big rearmament move at as early a date as seemed wise but of course I would not permit the rearmament of the country as that might defeat my purpose. Some fool army or navy man might realize my real objective and make me serious trouble.

So I'd talk a lot about the seriousness of the crisis and start a lot of defense work but I'd give away the most that was made to Britain, where it could serve my purposes and not be used against me.

I think I'd cultivate the Reds and put a lot of them into office, as that would serve to divide the comon herd and prevent their co-operating to defeat my plans.

While I insisted upon haste in producing armaments and munitions, I'd put people like Harold Ickes and old sister Perkins-Wutsky in position to foment strikes until pretty much everybody would be sore at the strikers, then when they got plenty sore about the strikes I could draft labor for defense and have the whole show under my thumb.

Naturally I'd feel kindly toward Edward V. and his cousin, Sir Victor and I'd be delighted to have their men about me. I'd give them important posts, so I'd be quite sure these powerful men would back me thru thick and thin.

Many a good laugh I'd have with these estimable gentlemen over the way the dumclucks would fall for my fireside chatter. It is far easier to divert attention from unkept promises than to fulfill those that might prove embarrassing.

With four hundred braintrusters at my beck and call it would be easy to keep the stupid voters satisfied. The fellow Lincoln declared it would be impossible to fool all the people all the time, but why try?

We can easily fool most of them most of the time and that gets the job done. It is a program to tempt any Master Showman—and with my Nudeal Four Hundred I'd doubtless follow much the same course that is being followed so successfully by the present incumbent.

Before we could re-establish a colonial status here we must utterly wreck what the despised Founding Fathers builded and the present program is getting the job done.

When Mr. Morgan sent Baruch with a good bunch of braintrusters to help dope out the deviltry I'd doubtless be delighted and receive them with open arms. I'd surely listen when they whispered in my ear, and give the cold shoulder to those who opposed them.

Then when Mr. Frankfurter wanted to take over the Supreme Court I could, of course, see just how nicely that would work out.

Only a fool would let the people know what was going on—and these wise international boys don't pick fools to do their subtle work. Were I president, and had I a flair for Machiavellian subtlety I could play along with the big boys, all the while prating about "Forgotten men" to keep the dumklucks quiet.

Once I was in the White House and had its one key in my pocket I'd certainly have sense enough to play along with Curley, Hague, Nash and Flynn. I'd make friends with Guffey and Pendergast, with the machine at St. Louis and Memphis, and all the rest.

Then if the "Moral element" went after my scalp I could sit back and laugh at them. My boys, being federated, would know just how many to count to meet the situation.

No doubt with such a hereditary background and with such training in the field of international finance, believing the people unfit to rule themselves, and knowing my reward was sure, should I succeed in bringing back this people to colonial status, I'd use many of the means that I now condemn. Such is the force of heredity and training.

With such forebears, brought up apart from the common herd, taught to esteem them and their ambitions lightly, schooled under private tutors who despised the American way of life possible I'd do all these things and feel as some of those now in power make it clear they feel.

The fact that the masses might deem me a traitor, an oath violator, might then be amusing to me. So I'd find it in my heart to understand the motivating forces that are driving our country toward a war that will forever end representative government.

None of those things however are true of me. I'm glad that I have grown up, and am growing old, among the common people, people who have their feet on the ground, the people who have produced the vast wealth which scheming conspirators have stolen from them.

I'm glad that I've known my fellowmen who work with their hands, have known their hopes and their disappointment, have shared their joys and their sorrows, that I have been one of a great common people, a people who are the salt of the earth, a people who have climbed to the zenith of human progress.

I can understand the attitude of our hothouse minority, I can see how they justify themselves in what we regard as treason — but I cannot and will not submit to their destroying the greatest nation God has permitted man to build, so long as He gives me power to resist.

After all, the Battle is the Lord's. I think He is coming soon, to deal evenhanded justice to all. When He comes I much prefer to be a "poor work stiff" than be one of those who have betrayed their trust, the trust of deceived millions, the "one-third who are ill-fed, ill-housed and ill-clothed."

Why Do "THEY" Make War?

SAN FRANCISCO,—The No Foreign War Coalition, Inc., which has undertaken to coordinate the efforts of all individuals and groups to keep America out of every foreign war and every foreign war out of the Americas, has launched a statewide campaign in California.

The Coalition has its headquarters at Washintgon, D. C., with Oscar Brumback as chairman. Brumback is nationally known as the author of "America, Awake!" and other books and pamphlets dealing with governmental affairs. He has named S. L. Brogden as organization chairman for California.

Brogden is an automotive engineer by profession and a veteran of the Spanish-American and World wars. He has opened offices at 57 Post street, San Francisco, and has issued a general call for volunteers to aid the Coalition cause.

"We want volunteers," said Brogden, "from every city, town and hamlet in the State. The situation facing this nation is critical and to meet the threatened crisis we must have united action.

"We have no purpose except to serve the best interests of America and to safeguard the constitutional rights of the people of the United States.

"We have adopted the motto: 'Billions for defense of the Americas, but not one dollar for any foreign war!'

"We oppose foreign entanglements. We are prepared to battle to keep war away from the Americas.

"We demand a solemn referendum on all wars.

"We further propose that Congress at once appoint a joint and impartial committee with instructions and full authority to unmask the real authors of this war and the secret facts behind it. That may be a big order, but the people of the United States are most emphatically entitled to the facts.

"We want to promote the best efforts of our government in Washington by making America secure. We want to keep the United States at peace with all the world by recognizing the fact that every nation has a right to its 'own place in the sun'; that the Monroe Doctrine is a consistent Doctrine only when it works both ways; that the only way in which to merit the friendship and respect of other nations is to cease meddling in their affairs where we have no concern.

"Every real American citizen who believes these principles should write to our San Francisco office immediately and volunteer to assist in the great fight for our Constitution and Nation."

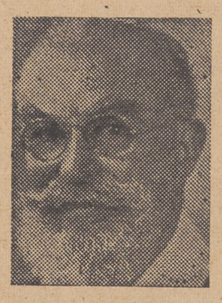
HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

ALCOHOL—ITS ACTION ON THE HEART

Alcohol, in whatever form, has a decided action on the heart. The heart is controlled by two sets of nerves—one that makes it slow up and the other that makes it hurry up.



Dr. Geo. Starr White

Alcohol seems to have a paralyzing effect upon the slow-up nerves. So the hurry-up nerves are boss and take the heart on a "joy-ride". This speeding up of the heart tires it out. The after-effect is weariness and sluggishness thru the entire circulatory system.

The sudden speeding up of the heart wears its stamina out. The consequence is lack of resistance.

Alcohol can be made from an excess of starches and sugars in the system. We should try to keep all yeast cells out of the digestive tract, as they make alcohol as they come in combination with the sugars and starches used in food.

Alcohol has no place in curative medicines. It is good only as a solvent and as a preservative.

The temporary stimulation derived from the taking of alcohol makes a second condition far worse than the first.

Alcohol, no matter how "pure", cures nothing —it pickles and deceives the user.

To destroy the craving for alcoholic liquors, nothing known can compare with pure honey. The strained honey should be eaten by the tablespoonful several times daily. Several glasses of pure water, preferably distilled water, should be drunk each day.

Good THOUGHT

Good WORD — Good DEED

Our Food

By Dr. O. Z. Ha'nish

"And all the seed-bearing fruits, shall be meat unto you." Such is the advice given by mother nature and its language stands inscribed before us in the open book of nature that none may err therein. And yet we will murmur against the manna, the bread from heaven, and long for the fleshpots of Egypt. We are not satisfied with the fruit nature offers us, in our greed and avarice, we long for its very blood—its life.

We raise our hands in horror, when the news reaches our ears, that another well-proportioned missionary has been killed and eaten by the savage islanders. And at the very moment we give vent to our opinions, the blood of thousands of our fellow-creatures cries out to heaven for justice, and the condemnation falls upon our heads.

Those of religious inclination hypnotize themselves into the idea, that the animals were created for them to eat. What then are you created for? They will attempt to justify their action by saying, that according to the law of Moses, they are allowed to eat of the animal kingdom. True, you are given allowances, as you demand them, but remember, that every act of injustice brings condemnation. Israel made the demand for fleshpots. Should it be denied them? It received laws as a consequence. Did it keep them? Israel demanded a king like unto other nations. "Give them a king," said the Voice of God, "and it shall be unto their condemnation." Think and reflect; remember, you may demand, but murmur not, when condemnation comes when sickness sorrow, poverty, sin and death enters your threshold—you reap what you have sown. And the Voice from the Realms of Mazda will descend upon yours ears: "The blood of thy brother-beings cries out to heaven for justice."

Those of an Occult bent suggest to themselves the idea, that by eating the animals, they redeem them from their lower conditions to a higher consciousness of evolution, thereby decreasing suffering. No doubt, that is one of the reasons they love to engage in stock raising and slaughter-houses to do quick work. Perhaps the savage holds similar "truths" when he elevates the missionary to his phase of consciousness. What a wonderful help to reform work, instead of educating the pauper he could be eaten, and at once transfigured into a higher mind.

Me and my old man

By Helen Love

I got the supper dishes all washed up last night and I sez to Fred (thats my old man) "I want to ask you some more questions". He said "Go right ahead baby . . . whats on your mind"? Well I sez . . . I been listening in on the radio the last few days . . . and about all I can hear is something about the damned British. I listened to a bit of drama . . . and it was all about the British . . . and then I tuned in to some news commentator and he was so British that I couldn't hardly make out his lingo . . . and then I tuned that out and I got another station and it was just the same . . . I wanted to ask you IS THIS THE UNITED STATES of AMERICA . . . or is it the British Empire? Aint there enough American Commentators in this country why do they have to hire them Britishers?" Well Fred sits back in the chair and he puts his feet up on the table and he sez Alice . . . its a long story . . . and I cant go into it in all the details necessary . . . but as near as I can see . . . the United States is fast disappearing. I know what you say is true . . . You notice that I dont never turn the radio on any more evenings? . . And thats why . . . Then I sez . . . yes . . . I did notice it and I dont blame you . . . I used to think the British were all right and I never hated any of them . . . but now that they are all coming over here and trying to run this country I hate their guts.

Then Fred gets up and lights a cigarette and he sez "Alice I hate to say this . . . but the way these English have come over here and conquered this country right under our noses is horrible . . . The first time they tried to come in they had guns and we took up our guns and drove em out but this time they came bare handed and just took over the U. S. hook line and sinker . . . without a shot being fired . . . The way they did it puts Adolph Hitler to shame . . . His invasions are small time . . . compared to the way England has taken over the United States . . " he sez . .

I sez . . . Yes but why did the Government let them do it? Aint we got a FBI . . . and aint we got a Dize Committee to prevent aliens from "undermining" the "American way" . . . Aint those Britishers . . .even more dangerous to this country then any Russians or Germans? and he sez . . .Yes they are . . . Alice but Mr. Rosenfeld just LOVES the Britishers and he is the whole cheeze . . . the self appointed cheeze . . . ! CHEESE sez I . . . did you say CHEEZE? . . . I gotta go without cheeze for them damned dirty hypocritical British . . . Imagine them telling ME that I gotta go without my cheese because they want it . . " Now Now said Fred . . . there you go getting all excited again over your cheeze . . . He sez there is more things over here than cheeze . . . yes I sez there is gas and about nine billions of dollars . . they want that too and Mr. Rosenfeld reaches right down into OUR pockets and without a word of thank you hands it right over . . . Now Fred I WANT TO KNOW HOW HE CAN DO that? How may he take all that money and cheeze away from us his own people and give it to somebody else . . . what RIGHT has he to do that to us . . . dont we come first in this country . . . Yes the country MUST be under the British Empire for otherwise he couldn't do that . . . Would you take the food right out of my mouth and hand it over to some blonde . . . would you I said WOULD YOU? and he sez No Alice I wouldnt I would see at least that you had enough first . . . Oh I sez First . . . then you think its all right to give the blonde some of our money as long as I had enough to eat . . . Well let me tell you something Fred Brown . . . I dont see no reason why no blonde should have any of the money you make and I dont see why our President should let our people starve and send the money to a bunch of dirty conniving old hypocrites . . . who call us shylocks and think our American women are street walkers (all of em) and aint good enough to marry their half witted . . . knock kneed offspring!" I was all out of breath and Fred he sez . . . dont you think you better lie down for a little while Alice and I did and went to sleep . . . it was the only way I could drown out the horrors. But I woke up in the middle of the night all a sweat . . . and I sez . . . "Fred . . . I just dreamed something . . . I kept hearing about 'at long last . . . and the sweat and the blood and the tears and the toil' . . . I was picking up newspapers and every one on every page had something about all that stuff . . . every article was 'at long last' . . . everything was just like that I got so sick of reading—that same old stuff over and over . . . Then I kept hearing 'again and again . . ' I have told the American Mothers and again and again I tell them their sons will NOT be sent to fight on foreign soil' . . .and everything was 'BEAN' . . . I BEAN thinking . . . I bean listening . . . and then they was a lot of other stuff . . . over and over like that . . . and a man with a silver tongue was talking about 'wah' . . .

Fred sez I think maybe tomorrow I had better take you to a doctor Alice . . . you are getting into an awful nervous state lately . . . Yes I sez . . . and when you call the doctor for the appointment his "SECKATRY" will probably say that the doctor is down to the race track watching the "DARBY!" . . . He sez you better go back to sleep again . . . I sez I dont want to go back to sleep . . . thats whats the matter with the American people . . . all of em . . . they are all asleep . . . and they is too lazy to use their own brains to think with . . . Why I never knew I had a brain of my own till a few days ago when I got mad! Yes Fred sez . . . it was the cheeze that did the trick. He sez Alice I never knew that you was so fond of cheeze that way and I sez . . . well I wasnt . . . but when they tried to take it away from me . . . I begun to realize that it was MY CHEEZE . . . and when they try to take away my own Country I begun to realize Id better get busy and do something . . . about it. Then he sez "Well Baby what do you think that you can DO about it?" . . .

ONE WAY TO GET INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Children are especially susceptible to infantile paralysis, and Waldemar Kaempffert, science editor of the New York Times, states that children who have had their tonsils removed are especially susceptible to it. Evidently, as Mr. Kaempffert says, the removal of the tonsils "means that a guardian of the alimentary tract is gone."—Consolation.

Missionaries Needed Here, Says Japanese

SANTA CRUZ,—The United States needs missionaries more than Japan, Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, world famed Japanese Christian missonary and writer, told the state convention of northern California Christian churches.

"The United States needs missionaries due to its slack moral condition, compared with Japan's decreased rate of vice districts and divorces in past years," Dr. Kagawa said. "America taught Japan Christianity but forgot to practice what she preached. America should clean up its morals."

City Won't Negotiate With Workers' Union

BERKELEY, Calif..,—City Manager Chester C. Fisk says the city will not recognize nor negotiate with the C.I.O. state, County & Municipal Workers of America on behalf of city employes.

Fisk made a formal announcement to city employes in which he said he had been advised by the city attorney he did not have the "right to recognize, negotiate, bargain or otherwse deal with any union as the representative of any city employes."

The S.C.M.W.S. claims a "substantial" membership among the more than 300 city employes.

Church Rules the State

Rite Must Be Catholic If 2 Catholics Wed

MONTERAL,—Superior Court Justice A. Forest held here that marriage of two Catholics by a Protestant minister is illegal under Quebec law and annulled a ceremony performed 24 years ago.

The justice declared that provincial law provides that marriage of Catholics "is not only a civil contract but is also a sacrament for which the Roman Catholic church alone has the right to prescribe."

He pronounced void the marriage of Laura Magdalen May and Harold W. Delaney, both Catholics, by an Anglican minister in 1917.

Un-American Probe Starting in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES,—First Los Angeles hearing in the state investigation of un-American activities will begin in the state building here at 10 a. m. today, Monday.

Assemblyman Jack Tenny, under whose direction the seven-man committee will conduct the hearing, said his group is primarily seeking to probe activities of individuals and organizations deemed detrimental to the safety of the United States.

present Hitler is fighting Stalin, does not make the Communists loyal American citizens. They are as subversive as they ever were, if not more so. A man who professes allegiance to his country merely to bore from within to work for Moscow is the worst type of citizen.

FRED—Did you have any trouble carrying such a sign in front of the Post Office?

DAD—I walked up and down from 12 o'clock noon till five minutes to one and had no trouble whatever. Every intelligent American realizes that Communism is a menace to our institutions, in peace and in war. So they simply read the sign and most of them agreed that we want no war and that the President should be reminded to uphold the Constitution. But at five minutes to one, a Communist threatened to take the sign away from me and two other husky young fellows joined him and were going to attack me.

FRED—Did they do anything?

DAD—They were just about to grab me when a few bystanders stepped up to see what was coming off. Evidently, the Communists did not like to have so many witnesses, so they changed their mind and walked away.

FRED—But, dad, why did they try to stop you from carrying your sign? Don't the Communists usually picket people they don't like? They even picketed the White House for over six weeks.

The Chosen People

DAD—That is exactly what I mean when I say that they are a menace. They want every privilege of free speech, free press, free assembly and free use of our school buildings to preach their doctrines, but they will gang up and beat up anybody who lays claim to the same privilege to show them up. They are not Americans, they have no sense of fair play. They are so crooked in their mental makeup and their lack of morality; they consider themselves to be the chosen people to rule the world by undermining every representative government, using force and violence where they can get away with it.

FRED—You seem to be very bitter against them.

DAD—I hate a crook, a cheat and a double crosser. Just look at what the Communists have done to organized labor. At first American unions were on the square. They were formed to protect the wage workers against unscrupulous exploitation. But now the unions are a racket. Instead of protecting the working people they are the worst exploiters of wage earners. Communist leadership brought it about. The dictatorship of the proletariat has turned into a dictatorship over the proletariat by Communist organizers. An American citizen is not permitted to earn a living unless he pays tribute to a labor organization and keeps on buying the privilege of working, or else. This is holding back the whole national progress of civilization and is bringing us back to jungle rule. With those birds contracts, oaths and obligations mean nothing. The federal administration is encouraging them and that makes it even worse. It is high time that we reminded our federal officials how we stand on Communism and that we expect not only the President but every official to keep his oath of office. That is why I shall continue to walk up and down in front of the Post Office. each week and express my sentiments in the matter.

FRED—Are you not afraid the Communists will gang up on you?

DAD—This is no time to worry about fear. I am more afraid for the Republic than I am afraid about myself. If the Communists continue to consider themselves a special group of chosen people who are to be allowed to undermine every law, every oath, every American tradition and principle of fair play, what will become of the rest of us? I came here to be free of those very things. I have no other place to go, so I shall make my last stand right here and have it out.

We Must Preserve America

FRED—But daddy, is it your business to reform the country or is it the business of the President?

DAD—You are asking the wrong question, Freddy. It is not a matter of reforming the country, in fact I am conserving, not reforming. It is the President who is reforming us along the lines of regimentation and is helping Communist doctrine and practice take a stronger hold. He even objected to the Dies committee last year and its investigation of Communistic abuses. Liberty and selfgovernment are present only where we, the people, exercise our rights, privileges and live up to our duties as sovereign citizens. It is our duty to protest against coddling Communists and putting them in important positions in the Federal Administration and in Labor Unions. The President has told the Nazis and the Fascist consuls and their staffs to get out of America, but he forgot to tell the Communists to pack up and get out also. As between Fascism and Communism, America has no choice. We cannot favor either and still retain our American principles of government and of life. It is therefore of the utmost importance that we expose and oppose all phases and colors of SOCIALISM, be it national or international. We cannot make the citizen a slave of the state and still be Americans. Paul Mallon might want to submit to such a condition and call the head of the state infallible, but when that condition becomes general, America, as the Founding Fathers visioned it, will be a thing of the past. But it shall not pass!

Vegetable Soup

FRED—Mother wrote out a receipt for your diet instructions tonight. Shall I read it now?

DAD—Oh yes; she promised she would tell us how she makes that good vegetable soup. Now be sure and read it quite slowly so the ladies may catch each item.

FRED—Here it is: ½ pound, dried lima beans soaked over night; 1 large onion, diced; 1-3 of a green pepper, diced; 5 stalks fresh celery, cut up fine and be sure to use green leaves, too; 5 carrots, diced; 1 can of tomatoes.—Brase the onion, green pepper and celery in about 4 tablespoons of some fresh vegetable oil, preferably sesame oil. Wash the soaked lima beans well, cover with water and cook for about ten minutes, or until you are able to remove the skins from the beans easily. After removing skins, add to the onion and celery mixture your diced carrots and place into a large soup pot (don't use aluminum). Add about 2 quarts of water and let cook until the beans are well dissolved. Then add tomatoes and cook for another ten minutes. Sometimes mother adds a little shredded cabbage when she puts in the tomatoes. Season to taste.

DAD—If anybody wishes to get a copy of this receipt, just drop me a line. Now what are you going to play tonight on your harmonica, Freddy?

FRED—Carry Me Back to Ole Virginny.

DAD—Isn't that what you played last week?

FRED—Yes, it's the same piece, but I want to play it again because I was scared, or too nervous last week and did not play it as well as I should.

DAD—Such an old tropper, like you, still having stage fright. How old are you?

California's "Heaven on Earth"

FRED—13½; I'll be 14 in November.

DAD—What grade are you in school?

FRED—I graduated from Woodrow Wilson Junior High and am going to Herbert Hoover Senior High in the fall.

DAD—So you and David will be going to the same school this year.

FRED—Only for one semester. Then David will enroll for State College.

DAD—How time flies. It was just a while ago when I pushed you and David in the baby carriage and now he is six inches taller than I am and you are only two inches shorter than your dad. You California native sons sure grow fast.

FRED—It's the climate, dad, it's the climate.

DAD—Not only the climate, child; but also the food. You have no idea how fortunate you California children are, having so much fresh fruit and vegetables to eat at such reasonable prices. If you boys knew how little good food children in Europe and Asia get, especially in the occupied countries, in Russia and in China, you'd understand why dictatorships flourish over there. But now go ahead and play your piece, Freddy.

FRED—Harmonica.

Industry

Through our fiscal agents here, and our aids who act for other allied countries, as Sir Clifford Sifton acts for Roumania, we have become the world's purchasers. Moreover, the war has made us the custodian of the greater part of the world's raw materials. With moneys lent us by the American Government for war purposes, we have, acting through quasi-American companies, by the aid of Mr. Connor Guthrie, obtained control of the large oil fields in California and in Costa Rica. And through the nationalization by His Majesty's Government of the Cowdray, Pierson, and Royal Dutch Shell interests in Mexico, we, having become masters of the Mexican, Canadian Roumanian, Armenian, Persian, and lesser oil fields, now largely control the oil fuel of the world and thereby the world's transportation and industry. We have not yet succeeded in controlling the pipe lines owned by the Standard Oil Company, and its subsidiaries. for those companies have long been established. But, although uncontrolled companies may continue to get their oil to the seaboard, the proposed system of preferential treatment at our universal oiling stations, for ships supplied at the port of departures with British oil (Appendix 37) will prevent the use of any oil but ours on the high seas.

This control would enable us to exert such pressure as would make American industrial interests amenable to His Majesty's pleasure. But it would be unwise to make disciplinary use of our fuel power before we secure remission of our $4,000,000,000 debt. Otherwise, the American industrial interests might retaliate by forcing the U. S. Government to exact from us the agreed interest, to maintain tariff barriers against our merchandise, and to withdraw support from the rate of exchange; which would make our labour and resources for years pay tribute to this country;—an unnatural, an unfilial, and unthinkable proceeding. We are conducting a vigorous campaign for the cancellation of this war debt, on the grounds (a) that we fought America's fight for her for two years— while she was prospering in cowardice; and (b) that at least the material burdens should be distributed justly, if the world is to be made safe for democracy. Synchronously with this agitation for the remission of our debt, we are agitating for further loans of American money to rebuild our markets in Europe. There is no possibility of these two agitations endangering their mutual success. For we have repeatedly proved beyond question that the American mind can not synchronously fix and correlate facts, with two cognate items on the statements to be judged on its merits. Hence, we are able in a cloud of candor to state the merit of the loan—viz, that unless the money be lent to us we can not pay the interest on it. In these agitations we are receiving valuable, if not wholly disinterested, aid from our financial auxiliaries and fiscal agents.

No Unity for War

Editor the Broom,

Britains V Campaign is her AID to her bleeding Red Ally. Just another Ally for her to betray and doublecross. Britain wont assist her in an invasion try on the continent, but wants the peoples of continental Europe to risk their necks in her behalf with the simple minded V Campaign. LEAFLETS OVER GERMANY TWO YEARS AGO AND HERE WE ARE AGAIN. Roosevelt is doing his customary second fiddle stunt by the draft extension, and other European invasion scare. When will the Brave retreating British fight. WHEN THEY ARE WAY BEHIND THE AMERICAN SOLDIER WHICH F. D. R. and his warmongering cabinet want to send overseas. UNITY NEVER, IF IT MEANS WAR. WHEN THE PROPAGANDA SPREADING BRITISH WONT FIGHT WE AMERICANS ARE TOO SMART AND TOO PROUD TO FIGHT. RUSSIA ANOTHER ALLY FOR BRITAIN TO DOUBLECROSS.

AMOS J. HUDSON.

Roosevelt Menace To Americas; Not Reich, Says Paper

BERLIN,—Commenting on President Roosevelt's message to congress, the German newspaper Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung denied the reich is menacing the Americas.

Under the headline, "Roosevelt's Gramaphone Record," the newspaper said: "The only danger for the American people emanates from the White House and lies in the every-increasing war psychosis which the president is systematically fomenting through speeches, messages, actions, orders and irresponsible provocations."
